

April 1, 2009

To: All RainDrop Chocolate customers, supplier and supporters.

From: Don Burke, owner RainDrop Chocolate Company, LLC.

Re: Closing of RainDrop Chocolate

No, this is not some kind of April Fool's joke! This is for real.

RainDrop Chocolate will close its door with the end of business Sunday, April 26, 2009.

For almost 3 years, RainDrop Chocolate has strived to offer the very best products and service to all our customers. The chocolates, gelato and baked goods have been praised by food critics and customers alike. RainDrop Chocolate has been featured in numerous local, regional, national and international publications. Together, with wonderful suppliers, I truly believe we have delivered the best.

I want to thank each and every one of you for patronizing RainDrop Chocolate. Please redeem your gift certificates before end of business April 26.

PS: I am NOT selling my brand. If a place claims to have RainDrop Chocolate anything, it is imitation. Additionally, after April 26, I can be contacted at raindropdon@earthlink.net